Logic Pro mix template. The supplied session was saved in Logic Pro 12.3.1. Orion, God Particle, FabFilter, Soundtoys, Waves, UAD, Valhalla and other referenced plugins require separate licenses.

Your music, royalty-free

You may use the purchased preset or template in your own music and projects you produce or mix for clients, including commercial releases. No royalties are owed to Luis Canción on music made using the purchased preset or template. Your music remains yours.

Personal use of the files

You may keep personal backup copies. You may not resell, redistribute, share, sublicense, or offer the preset or template files for others to download. This purchase does not transfer ownership of the preset or template itself.

Software and included content

The purchase covers the preset or template identified on your receipt and in its product listing. Logic Pro, third-party plugins and their licenses are not included. You must obtain the required software separately. This license does not grant rights to third-party songs, performances, tutorials, artwork or other material.

Independent product

Artist, engineer and brand names describe the referenced style or workflow. They do not imply affiliation or endorsement.

All sales are final

Digital downloads are non-refundable except where required by applicable law. Review compatibility, required plugins and the product description before purchasing.
